Submission Deadline: February 9, 2009

The International Association for Conflict Management (IACM) was founded to encourage scholars and practitioners to develop and disseminate theory, research, and experience that is useful for understanding and improving conflict management in organizational, societal, family, and international settings. We invite papers as well as proposals for symposia for the 2009 meeting of IACM to be held in Kyoto, Japan.

TYPES OF SUBMISSIONS

You are invited to submit a paper, symposium or workshop. Submissions should present new material, distinct from published works, works that will be published before the conference, or from submissions to any other conference. We encourage innovative sessions or papers involving dialogues between: theory and practice, different content areas, different conflict paradigms (game theory, decision-analysis, political science, psychology, etc.), or multiple cultures.

Individual Presentations: Presentations can be submitted as either full length papers or extended abstracts.

Papers: Papers are limited to 30 TOTAL PAGES (including title page, abstract, references, tables, and figures) and should be formatted according to guidelines set forth in the latest edition of the Publication Manual of the American Psychological Association. Papers should contain Introduction, Method, Results and Discussion sections. Incomplete papers are not acceptable. Papers that do not fit logically with others or would benefit from more time or a face-to-face discussion will be scheduled in showcase poster sessions.

Extended Abstracts: Extended abstracts must include at least 1000 WORDS. It is essential that abstracts provide sufficient information for review. Extended abstracts will not be considered for conference awards.

Symposia/Debates/Roundtables:

Symposia: Symposia are focused sessions in which participants present their views on a common issue.

Debates: Debates typically include a moderator and two teams of one or two speakers each.

Roundtable: Roundtable discussions typically involve a moderator/facilitator and a panel consisting of participants from a variety of different traditions or perspectives on an issue.

Symposia, Debates, and Roundtable submissions should describe the focal issue (3 PAGE LIMIT), the qualifications and expected contributions of each participant, and include a statement from each participant declaring their intention to register for and attend the conference.

Workshops: Workshops are highly interactive, specialized sessions that focus on sharing new techniques or approaches related to teaching, research, and/or practice. There is limited space on the program for workshops. A workshop proposal should explain its relevance to IACM; articulate the session's goals, give details on the format to be used, indicate constraints on time and the number of participants, and describe the relevant qualifications of those who intend to conduct the workshop.

Novel Session Formats: We encourage proposals for innovative or experimental conference sessions that do not fit any of the categories described above.

SUBMISSION PROCEDURES

All submitters will be asked to verify and indicate on line: 1) the person(s) responsible for presenting the submission; 2) a promise that each presenter will register and attend the conference should their submission be accepted; 3) their willingness to present at the time and date scheduled by the Program Chair; and 4) their willingness to present in the format (paper presentation or poster session) specified by the Program Chair and 5) three keywords that will be used to help assign reviewers.

All submitters will be asked to review papers for the conference program. At the time of submission, submitters who will not be available to review papers will have an opportunity to nominate a co-author or opt out of the responsibility.

After notification from the Program Chair, the submitter is responsible for notifying co-authors and other session participants about the acceptance/rejection decision and information concerning session location, timing and format.

Submit papers: Submissions will not be accepted after February 9, 2009. Papers should be submitted through the IACM website:
